Robert "Wheels" Wheeler

CEO at Strategic Consulting Unlimited, LLC

Profile

Major General Robert E. Wheeler also known as “Wheels” is a high energy executive with over 30 years of senior leadership expertise while directing large organizations and culminating as the Deputy Chief Information Officer for the Secretary of Defense. Prior to his current position he was the Chief Strategy Executive of Global Velocity Inc. where he was responsible for developing, communicating and sustaining Global Velocity’s strategic initiatives. As the DoD Deputy Chief Information Officer for Command, Control, and Communications he was responsible for leading cybersecurity modernization and standardization in critical legacy National Security Systems while managing many of the Nation’s most sensitive communications programs. His experience encompasses all facets of combat flying operations, cyber, electronic warfare, nuclear operations, command and control (C2) as well as international negotiations with eight separate commands. He also has broad leadership and budgeting experience at the Secretary of Defense Staff level, interagency, Congress, and the White House.