

Chris Stace Bio 22 June 2017

Chris Stace joined European Defence Agency, Brussels, in 2012 having served for 26 years in the UK's Royal Air Force. His diverse career has spanned operational signals, CIS and logistics, acquisition and change/project management. More recently, he had a tour in the EU Military Staff and the UK Ministry of Defence's Capability Directorate.

Having previously been Project Officer CIS, Chris is now the Head of Unit for 'Information Superiority'. The Information Superiority Unit focuses on cyber defence, Sat Com, space-based information systems, radio spectrum management, enhancing command and control within EU-led crisis management operations, CIS and progressing Research & Technology projects within the domains of Cyber, Information and Modeling and Simulation.