

Michael Walsh

Michael Walsh currently serves as Project Director at Forum One Communications. In this role, he oversees the creation of online campaigns and web properties for government and non-government clients that take advantage of Web 2.0 technologies, especially as they relate to social media and open data. Mr. Walsh is a graduate of Johns Hopkins University (BA) and The School of Advanced International Studies (MA). He also completed executive education at Harvard Business School and The Wharton School. Prior to Forum One, he previously served as a Senior Marketing Communications Manager at Microsoft Corporation and Management Consultant at Northrop Grumman Corporation.
