

DAVID HARTMAN...

Over the last thirty years, David Hartman has produced, written and hosted many series of documentary programs for public television, the networks and cable. Subjects have included the U. S. Constitution, National Defense, Freedom in Russia and Eastern Europe, Pulitzer Award winning photojournalists, Aviation and Space and numerous American history retrospectives. These programs have earned many awards including two National News and Documentary Emmys, the Aviation and Space Writers Journalism Award, the Edgar Dale Award for writing and others.

Currently, Mr. Hartman co-writes and hosts a series of eleven programs about the city of New York for public television. He also hosts a dozen concerts, yearly, of the North Carolina Symphony orchestra on public radio and has substituted for Paul Harvey on ABC radio.

Hartman was the original host of Good Morning America in 1975. Over nearly twelve years he accumulated more than 5,000 hours of live television and over 12,000 interviews with subjects ranging from national and international leaders to families in the American heartland.

Hartman is an occasional guest lecturer at Princeton, Cornell and Duke Universities and at Smithsonian Air and Space Museum, the Naval Air Museum (Pensacola) and the Air Force Flight Test Historical Foundation. He has served as National Chairman of the American Heart Association and is a former trustee of the Economic Club of New York, the African Wildlife Foundation, Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America, the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences and The U.S Fund for UNICEF.
