

David Cerjan

Senior Director, Defense and Intelligence Community
Veritas Technologies

David Cerjan currently serves as Director for the Department of Defense (DoD) and Intelligence Community organization for Veritas Technologies. He has served in his current position since 2017 where prior to his current position he was with Cisco Systems. He has been associated with the Information Technology industry for over twenty-five years. Prior to the IT industry, Cerjan came from a military and DoD background. He was commissioned in Military Intelligence from Washington State University where he achieved a BA in Business Management.

His early military assignments included working in Human Intelligence (HUMINT) in Germany, Central America as well as Desert's Shield and Storm. During his HUMINT assignments, Cerjan also received his badge and credentials as a Counter-Intelligence Officer. He transitioned into a Combat Arms role within the US Army by attending the Special Forces Assessment and Selection (SFAS) course where he was then selected to attend and completed the Special Forces Qualification course where upon he was assigned to the 1st Battalion / 7th Special Forces Group.

Cerjan transitioned from the military into the private sector; first working in Sports Marketing and Management and then moving into the Information Technology (IT) field at Oracle Corporation during the height of the Internet and Online explosion. Following the creation of the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence (USDI), Cerjan worked for the Deputy Under Secretary of Defense for Intelligence as part of the Defense Sensitive Support (DSS) Program supporting OEF and OIF Special Operation Missions.

After leaving the DSS role, he returned to the IT industry working with Adobe Systems to manage their Unified Collaboration business supporting the DoD and Intelligence Community, transition to overseeing the DoD/IC and Federal Collaboration business for Cisco Systems before moving to his current position at Veritas Technologies.

Through time at Oracle, Infodata, Adobe and Cisco; Cerjan has amassed over 25 years of experience in leadership, operations, sales, marketing and strategic planning supporting the DoD and high-technology companies.

Cerjan also leads a non-profit organization called FaithWalk International, which provides faithbased leadership for the marketplace and young-adults that corresponds with trips to Israel. Mr. Cerjan is married to the former Amy Rawlings and has a young daughter named Gabriella.