

Deborah Golden

Principal
Deloitte & Touche, LLP

Deborah Golden, principal, Deloitte & Touche LLP, is the Government & Public Services (GPS) Cyber Risk Services leader, as well as the GPS Advisory Market Offering leader, GPS Empowered Well-being leader, and the lead principal for a major federal government healthcare provider.

Golden has almost 25 years of information technology, security, and privacy experience spanning numerous industries, including a specialization in cybersecurity and technology transformation. Golden also has expertise within the federal, life sciences and health, and financial services industries. Additionally, she serves on Virginia Tech's Accounting and Information Systems Board and the Masters in Information Technology Advisory Board.

Deborah has been published in The Wall Street Journal and FCW on multifactor authentication and thinking like an adversary and appeared in numerous news outlets including Federal Times and Federal News Radio on issues ranging from biometrics to cyber simulations.

Deborah also co-leads the Federal practice's Empowered Well-being program that provides Deloitte professionals the support and flexibility to make daily choices that enable them to be energized, confident and aware, focused on the body, mind and purpose.