

Leonard Chin

Sr. Mobility Solutions Consultant, Global Technology Office, AT&T Public Sector Solutions

Leonard Chin is responsible mobile architecture and solution development, including mobile applications, mobile solutions development and implementation supporting Department of Defense and Civilian customers. Solutions include LTE, 5G, SDN/NFV, Mobile Enterprise Management and Security, Messaging, Internet of Things, Smart Technologies and Cloud.

Mr. Chin has been in the telecom industry over 20 years and has held marketing, product management and business development at several start-ups and telecom equipment manufacturers including Alcatel-Lucent, Ciena, and Tellabs. Prior to AT&T, Mr. worked at Trust Digital as Director of Product Management, a mobile device management software company focused on commercial and federal markets.

Mr. Chin earned a bachelor's degree in Electrical Engineering from Syracuse University and a master's degree in Business Administration from Carnegie Mellon University. Mr. Chin joined AT&T in 2009 and has been awarded Diamond Club in 2013 for sales excellence.