

Jerry Dotson is Vice President of Avaya's Government Solutions, a global provider of business collaboration and communications solutions and a key technology partner for the US Federal, State, and Local Government. In his current role, Jerry oversees the business operations supporting the missions of all US Federal (Civilian & Intel) and Department of Defense customers. He joined Avaya in 2005, focusing on the Public Sector. Prior to his current position, Jerry served as the Regional Sales Lead for Avaya's Foreign Account Module, managing key accounts such as HUD, NRC, and EPA, among others. With over 32 years of experience in the Information Technology industry, Jerry's expertise spans installation, operations, implementation, engineering, and proposal management. Throughout his entire career, Jerry has dedicated himself to supporting government entities, contributing to various challenging requirements, including pioneering the first VoIP implementation for the US Department of State. Jerry earned his PhD in 2011 from Kingsbury University. He is blessed with a wonderful wife of 24 years, a son who is currently attending Liberty University, and a daughter who is a senior in high school. Jerry and his wife are deeply committed to their community, having established and operated a food bank in Fairfax County, VA. This food bank has supported as many as 500 families a month over the past six years.
